Dear friends!

In 2013 we made the decision to open the Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation in Geneva. Its main goal was to support Russian and international programmes of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called (Russia) and to study and preserve the Russian national heritage in Russia and abroad.

In 2017 the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called marks the 25th anniversary. The Foundation’s work can be described by the following words: “For Russia, for the sake of the world”. Over the years of the Foundation’s activity it got acknowledgment and obtained good reputation in Russia and far beyond thanks to the peace-making focus of its programmes where thousands of people take part in Russia and in other countries. The programmes include “Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem” programme, delivery of the greatest Christian relics, the International Prize “Faith and Loyalty”, programmes to support people who became victims of tragic catastrophes and a lot more.

We can also review the results of the Endowment Fund. Establishment of the Fund made it possible to extend and complement the international activity of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called, to implement several joint projects with our foreign partners and to hold fruitful meetings on vital issues of interaction of Russia and European countries. As an example, we can remember the panel discussion on “European choice: globalization or re-sovergnization?” which was organized in 2015 at Geneva Press Club.

We are going to keep on developing our key programmes and we are open for cooperation!

DR. VLADIMIR YAKUNIN,
Chairman of the Board of Trustees of Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called and Center of National Glory
I. ABOUT THE FOUNDATION

The Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called is one of the oldest non-governmental organizations in Russia. It was founded in 1992. In 2017 the Foundation celebrates its 25th anniversary.

The activity of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called is focused on the following:
• strengthening of the Russian statehood;
• keeping the traditional system of values;
• overcoming the demographic crisis;
• dissemination of objective information about the role of Russia in the world cultural, economic and political development.

For all 25 years of its work the Foundation was the pioneer in many programmes where millions of people took part. The list of the programmes includes “Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem”, International Prize "Faith and Loyalty", delivery of great Orthodox relics, restoration of the gate icons on the towers of Moscow Kremlin and many others.

The Centre of National Glory was established in 2001. The fundamental activity of the Centre aims to deal with the historical destiny of Russia, with people and events which helped Russia grow its heritage and cope with difficulties during the most complicated historical periods.

The most significant programmes of the Centre include the following: “Serving the Fatherland: events and names”, “Historical memory of generations”, “Russian world”, “Sanctity of Motherhood”, the programme to support people who have become victims of tragic events, volunteer projects.

The Centre pays special attention to the youth. The important areas of activity related to the youth include patriotic upbringing, growing the interest for the history of Russia and historical figures who served for the benefit of the Fatherland. Following this task the Centre of the National Glory organizes international youth camps, tactical games, special campaigns and competitions.

The Endowment Fund ISTOKI
Specialized Endowment Fund “Fund to support historical and cultural research” ISTOKI” was registered on March 5th, 2013 in Russia.

The mission of Endowment Fund “ISTOKI” is to strengthen spiritual grounds of the Russian society, moral education based on Orthodoxy and on worthy examples of the Russian history and the Russian culture.

The Fund provides support for programmes aimed at preserving and support for traditional values of the Russian people, for continuous historical succession, for keeping cultural traditions which are fundamental for the Russian civilization.

Today the Fund is one of the largest Russian endowments. Thanks to the Fund’s financial support many historical and cultural programmes, educational, research and socially significant projects are conducted.

IN 2014-2016 THE ENDOWMENT FOR ST ANDREW FOUNDATION HAS PAID GRANTS IN AMOUNT OF ABOUT 1,390,000 EURO IN TOTAL
PROJECTS IMPLEMENTED THANKS TO THE ENDOWMENT IN 2014-2016

THE «PRAY FOR THE PEACE OF JERUSALEM» PROGRAMME

THE SUM OF GRANTS PAID SINCE 2014 FOR THE PROGRAMME IS MORE THAN 640,000 EURO

The “Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem” programme is the most ambitious peacekeeping programme of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called in the Holy Land since 2003.

Every year, on the eve of Orthodox Easter with the blessing of his Holiness Patriarch of Moscow and all Russia Kirill the delegation of the St. Andrew Foundation brings the Holy Fire from the Church of the Resurrection in Jerusalem in Moscow for the Easter Liturgy in the Cathedral of Christ the Savior. The delegation is headed by the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the St. Andrew Foundation Vladimir Yakunin.

Bringing the Holy Fire to the Russian Orthodox Church is a part of the programme of the St. Andrew Foundation “Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem”. An important component of this initiative is a prayer for peace in the Holy Land. The delegation of the St. Andrew Foundation, together with the Patriarch of Jerusalem is praying for peace in the Holy Land.

Almost a thousand years Russian pilgrims from different backgrounds and social status are eager to visit Holy places. Holy Land, keeping alive the memory of the most important for Christianity and other faiths events that attracts like no other place on the planet. But today it is defiled by violence and terror. Russian pilgrims of the delegation of St. Andrew Foundation are going on a pilgrimage to pray for peace in the Holy Land and bring the Holy Fire to Russia.

By the special flight the Holy Fire is delivered to Moscow by the beginning of the Easter Patriarchal service at the Cathedral of Christ the Savior and handed to his Holiness Patriarch of Moscow and all Russia Kirill.

Traditionally, hundreds of believers greet the delegation at Vnukovo airport, then carry the Holy Fire to the churches of Moscow, Moscow region and other regions of Russia.

Since 2014 the “Pray for the Peace of Jerusalem” programme got new opportunities to develop and expand geographical coverage thanks to support of the Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation.

In 2014 the Holy Fire was brought to Rome for the first time. A special capsule in which the Holy fire came from the Holy Land was delivered by the end of the Easter liturgy in the Orthodox church of St. Catherine in Rome, and then by train to St. Nicholas Orthodox Church in Merano.

In 2015 for the first time the Holy fire was delivered to Serbia. The St. Andrew Foundation also took over the organization of the official participation of Serbian delegation in the pre-Easter celebrations in Jerusalem.

In 2016 the Holy Fire was delivered to 54 Russian cities and 11 foreign cities.
In 2015-2016 with the support of the St. Andrew Foundation a unique project “Way of the Holy Fire” has started, which is carried out by the group of companies “Geolife”. Millions of believers in online mode could observe the distribution of the Holy Fire from Moscow to the regions of Russia and countries near and far abroad.

Live broadcast from Jerusalem during the Descent of the Holy Fire is an important element of the programme. Millions of viewers of NTV-Chanel in Russia and countries near and far abroad have also witnessed this unique worship in the Jerusalem Church of the Resurrection of Christ

“In Moscow dozens of believers are expecting the delegation. Later they will bring the Fire all the way to Vladivostok”.

Benjamin Quenelle, Le Soir (Belgium)

“Patriarch lit candles from the Flame. For several years the Flame is delivered by plane directly from Israel from the Church of Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem thanks to the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called. And the Fire is transported in specific safety lamps. From Moscow the Fire, which is called «the blessed Fire», is distributed across Russia and to Orthodox churches around the world».

«Pravo» Newspaper (Czech Republic).
IN 2016 THE HOLY FIRE WAS DELIVERED TO 54 RUSSIAN CITIES AND 11 FOREIGN CITIES.
THE «SANCTITY OF MOTHERHOOD» PROGRAMME

THE SUM OF GRANTS PAID SINCE 2015 TO THE PROGRAMME IS ABOUT 200,000 EURO

The “Sanctity of Motherhood” programme dates back to 2006. The Board of Trustees of the programme is headed by Natalia V. Yakunina.

The programme is addressed to medical, scientific, creative and journalists communities, to parents and children, as well as to the youth.

The goal of the Programme is to form in the public mind the attitude to family and motherhood, fatherhood and childhood as to the greatest values by means of revival of spiritual and moral potential of the Russian family.

“Sanctity of Motherhood” programme is focused on the most precious and significant things we have – on our families and children.

In 2016 the Programme celebrated its 10th anniversary. And we have a lot of fulfilled tasks behind. Our work resulted in children who were born thanks to the Programme, their happy mothers, interesting competitions with thousands of contestants of all ages, constructive proposals that were included in the Concept of the State Family Policy and the plan for its realization, a group of people with a strong desire to help those in need with the group growing on a daily basis. Our Programme comprises two initial interconnected principles: help for people in need and education. Just the way it was in previous years, we are optimistic about the future. We hope new partners will join our charitable work and more and more close-knit, large and happy families will appear in Russia thanks to our efforts.

Chairperson of the Board of Trustees of the Programme “Sanctity of Motherhood”

Projects implemented thanks to the endowment in 2014-2016

The main projects of the “Sanctity of Motherhood” programme are the project “You are not alone”, “Mass media” and “Volunteer”.

One of the major projects – “You are not alone” – is aimed at psychological support for pregnant women who are in difficult life situations. The main objective of the project is to prevent abortions, to change the public attitude to each conceived human life as to an absolute value.

The number of lives saved through the joint efforts of psychologists to antenatal clinics in the partner regions of the programme “Sanctity of Motherhood” is more than 40,000 babies. On the initiative of the “Centre of National Glory” a training programme for psychologists working on the methodology of ante-abortive consultancy have been developed and a corresponding raining for specialists is in progress. More than 600 psychologists and other workers in the system of obstetric care from the partner regions of the program have been trained in pre-abortion counseling organized in the framework of the program “Sanctity of motherhood” in different regions of Russia.

The performance indicators of the project “You are not alone” show that the project is a significant contribution to the current demographic problems that do not require huge financial investments by the state.

The project “Volunteer” is aimed at developing youth volunteer movement to assist citizens in need. The project “School of Social Activity” which became a space for sharing experience, personal and professional development for many young people from different cities of Russia and abroad is being actively implemented at present time. Competitions of youth volunteer initiatives, youth volunteer forums and training schools are being held in the framework of the project “School of Social Activity”. Participants of the “School of volunteer movement” are implementing a joint network project “Ensemble of goodwill”, using art as a means to support people in difficult life situations.

The project “Mass media” (“Family values in the modern information space”) aims to promote social responsibility among the participants of journalistic and advertising communities. The main objective of the project is to consolidate like-minded people willing to create the information environment favourable for the spiritual and moral health of Russians. The project includes the annual competition “Family and the future of Russia”, the photo exhibition “We are family!”, roundtables on “Family values in the mass media” and also training seminars/training courses for journalists. The conduct of these activities showed the relevance of the dialogue between the media, regional leaders and members of the public.

The “Sanctity of Motherhood” programme has reached the all-Russian and international level now. Forums of the programme “Sanctity of Motherhood” (2010 – Moscow, 2012 – Nizhny Novgorod, 2013 – Moscow, 2015 - Kazan) are being conducted. According to tradition their participants are the representatives of most Russian regions, they are leaders of public organizations and regional authorities, journalists and scientists, representatives of the Russian Orthodox Church and other traditional Russian religions.

The international forum “Large family and future of humanity” was held in 2014. The Forum brought together more than 1,500 people representing over 45 countries of the world.

The Fourth Forum of the “Sanctity of Motherhood” programme was organized with the support of the Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation, Endowment Fund “ISTOKI” (Russia) and the Government of the Republic of Tatarstan hosted on November 26-27, 2015 in Kazan. The theme of the forum was “Eternal traditions of the family are the basis of the future of Russia”. The forum brought together over 700 participants from more than 50 Russian regions. Representatives of Executive authorities of the Russian Federation, the Federation Council and the State Duma, representatives of traditional religions of Russia took an active part in its work. The Forum was visited by delegations from many foreign countries including China, Japan, Serbia, Ukraine, Belarus, Moldova, Georgia.

The purpose of the Forum is consolidation of efforts of state, society and the Church to change the demographic situation in the country, to protect traditional family, motherhood and childhood, to promote formation of an effective family policy in Russia.

Particular attention at the Fourth Forum was paid to the practices and initiatives which are both already effective and having the perspective to be implemented in the field of legislation, education, media, youth volunteer service, etc. and to transfer from one generation to another the moral and spiritual origins on which the life and well-being of every family depends.

The results of the work of the Forum are following: to suggest measures on improving collaboration of state authorities, public organizations, representatives of traditional religions to implement the first phase of the Concept of state family policy in Russian Federation within the 2015-2018 years plan of actions.

The support from Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation made it possible for the programme to reach the international level and become one of the most well-known pro-family programmes in the world.

In recent years the programme has been developing contacts with organizations that support the traditional family in other countries; large-scale international forums have been held where representatives of pro-family organizations from all over the world take part.

“I believe that accomplishment of the mission of man on this earth in accordance with the divine intention is continuation and development of the family. The family must exist on this earth. And what you have organized here is not just a conference, it is not just another conference, this is manifestation of a global revolution, a moral and spiritual revolution for the benefit of all mankind.”

Francisco S. Tatad (Philippines), Officer-in-Charge for International Affairs under Vice-President of the Republic of Philippines

“Indeed, strengthening of the family is a vital interest of any nation, and it is an obligation of a responsible government. Family needs children to ensure its own survival as well as a nation needs the family for successful existence. I would like to thank organizers of this Forum for being given an opportunity to speak frankly and openly on these issues.”

Gergely Prohle (Hungary), Deputy State Secretary for International and EU Affairs
Public report for 2014-2016

Projects implemented thanks to the endowment in 2014-2016
Since 2014 Charity events are held with support from Endowment for St Andrew the First-Called Foundation to help the All-Russian Programme “Sanctity of Motherhood”.

The Charity events gather representatives of business communities from Russia and Europe, outstanding figures of culture, politics, science and sports who come to support the initiatives of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called aimed to develop the pro-family movement and to preserve traditional family values.

The charity prize drawing is an important element of every event. The prizes are provided to the Foundation by its partners and friends.

The Charity event in 2014 was held on October 11 in Moscow. It made it possible to raise 15 million Rubles for development of motherhood protection centres.

16 lots were presented for the prize drawing. They comprised paintings by People’s Artists of the Russian Federation Dmitry Belyukin and Sergey Andriyaka, pieces of jewellery by Vladimir Mikhaylov, porcelain from the legendary Imperial Porcelain Factory and by painter Tatyana Chapurgina, as well as other valuable items. The lots also included unique trips and excursions; for instance, the possibility to be part of the delegation of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called and to visit Jerusalem in order to obtain the Holy Fire.

Thanks to the raised sum it was possible to provide help to shelters for single mothers in eight Russian regions: professional sewing machines were purchased, children playrooms were equipped, as well as psychologists’ rooms, kitchens and workshops. A car was bought for one of the centres to provide more chances for the centre’s team to move around. Professional courses in hairstyling and manicure were paid to help single mothers who needed to get a profession.

The second Charity event was held on November 18. This time Fyodor Konyukhov, the legendary Russian traveler, joined the partners who provided the lots for the drawing. Among the partners there were also European hotels and producers of high-end drinks, Moscow museums and theatres.

Thanks to the event the prize fund was created for the Contest of the all-Russian programme “Sanctity of Motherhood” that was organized for obstetric institutions.

The best psychologists and obstetricians-gynecologists took part in the Contest to win the title of the most professional experts in the field of preserving children’s lives.

The winners of the Contest were awarded on November 24 during the V Forum of “Sanctity of Motherhood” programme in Saint-Petersburg. The Contest helped draw attention of the public to the vital issue of keeping children’s lives. It has been one of the essential issues for “Sanctity of Motherhood” programme for over 10 years.

THE INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCES

THE SUM OF GRANTS PAID SINCE 2014 TO HOLD THE CONFERENCES IS MORE THAN 240,000 EURO

With support of the Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation international forums and conferences aimed to support constructive intergovernmental dialogue in various fields have been organized. Conferences participants consider the historical background of current events in Europe and the world, give an estimate of up-to-date political, cultural, social and other processes. Special attention is paid to the topic devoted to the preservation of neighbourly co-existence of Russia with other countries, the development of partnerships and friendly relations with neighbouring and distant states.

«THE GREAT WAR AND THE BEGINNING OF A NEW WORLD: AN UP-TO-DATE AGENDA FOR THE HUMANKIND»
CONFERENCE IN BELGRADE, SERBIA (16-18/09/2014)

The International Science and Public Conference “The Great War and the Beginning of a New World: An Up-to-Date Agenda for the Humankind” took place on September 16-18, 2014 in Belgrade (Serbia). The Conference was arranged within a framework of the celebrations, devoted to the 100th anniversary of the beginning of the First World War.

The main Conference organizers:
- St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation and Center of National Glory, Russia;

Conference became the wide international dialogue between science and society on the most relevant aspects of the history of the First World War, their influence on the contemporary state of international relations. Conference organizers set a task to analyse the events of that time in perspective of world historical processes. During the conference, it was repeatedly emphasized that the relevance of the stated topic is seen in manifesting in the contemporary world challenges and threats, similar to those that have been historically manifested in 1914.

Basic topics of the Conference:
- Global Wars and Historical Transformations of the World;
- The First World War: Why and What for?;
- The First World War in the Context of World Outlook and Value Analysis;
- The First World War as History’s Admonition for Humankind.

The languages of the conference were Serbian, Russian and English.

The representatives of 15 countries took part in the Conference, among them were historians, public and governmental figures, the representatives of the business community, the priesthood of the Russian and the Serbian Orthodox Church. The overall number is more than 500 participants.

During the Conference more than 40 participants made their reports, including the Chairman of the Board of Trustees of St. Andrew First-Called Foundation and Centre of National Glory, Founding President of the World Public Forum “Dialogue of Civilizations”, President of OJSC “Russian Railways” Vladimir Yakunin, Former President of the Czech Republic in 2003-2013, Honorary Chairman of the Civic Democratic Party of the Czech Republic Václav Klaus, Deputy Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation Aleksei...
Meshkov and also the representatives of science and knowledge hubs of Russia, Serbia, India, Czech Republic, Canada, Austria, Italy, Germany, Switzerland, France, Belgium and Great Britain.

The participants of the Conference decided to consider the final speech made by the Co-Chair of the Conference Vladimir Yakunin as an Outcome Document of the Conference. In his report it was stressed: “The historical parallels between today’s global situation and the situation of a century ago are obvious. World is stricken by the economic and financial crisis, which waves come one after another. War can, as it was a hundred years ago, seem to someone a way out of the current gridlock. But it will be a solution convenient only for the global oligarchy. As a hundred years ago, there is a struggle for global world leadership today. However, the very aspiration to a non-polar world order, the ideology of superiority, the claim to world hegemony - together lead to the war. As a hundred years ago, now the struggle for markets, for the zones of geo-economic influence is activated again, and this struggle pushes to another war for the redivision of the world. Today we are talking about the uniting of the efforts of all progressive world forces at the struggle for the elimination of the financial oligarchy class from the global power. There is a strong need to reformat all political processes in the world countries on a truly equal democratic principles, the principles of the sovereign - not fictional, civilizational human values and equal dialogue of civilizations. Humanity must find the wisdom and power to get out of the blind dependence on global beneficiaries”.

Projects implemented thanks to the endowment in 2014-2016
The international discussion devoted to the topic "European Choice: Globalization or Re-Sovereignization" took place on March 6, 2015 in Geneva Press Club with participation of over 100 experts from Russia, Switzerland and other European countries. The panel discussion has been organized by the Endowment for St. Andrew The First-Called Foundation in cooperation with the St Andrew the First-Called Foundation (Russia) and the Endowment for the World Public Forum – Dialogue of Civilizations – DofC (Switzerland).

The complex range of choices facing Europe in the context of present day globalization challenges was discussed at the panel discussion.

This agenda was presented by several research centres and public organizations and supported by the Endowment for St Andrew the First-Called Foundation.

Initiators of the event shared growing concern over the present state of global affairs. The contemporary international practice of world order structuring apparently does not correspond to the rational publically acceptable norms required to foster global mega-scale projects.

The growing number of public actors, experts and researchers start sharing the view that such requisite ingredients of globalization as "universal human values and rights", the pre-set standards of tolerance and political correctness (or rather political comfort) are conducive to distortion of factual historical memory and to the entrenchment of a narrow group of beneficiaries of the current transformations.

These developments lead to the growing de-sovereignization of national and international economic and financial processes. The number of those, who suffer from this state of affairs and from serious lack of perspectives to overcome these negative social and economic tendencies in Europe and in other regions of the world, is considerable and is still rapidly growing.

Participants of the panel-discussion had an opportunity during the two panel sessions to address the estimates of the present situation in banking sphere and to tap the historical experience of interaction between Europe and Russia. The discussions were aimed to pinpoint the existing trends vis a vis the alternative models of building realistic and responsible concept of sustainable development.

In the framework of two theme sessions “Globalization as politics” and “The Historical Interaction between the European countries and Russia” the experts have discussed the current economic and political trends.

Under the conditions of globalization national states have to choose: whether to keep their national sovereignty and democratic policy or to be involved in the processes of international integration.

In particular, according to the participants of the event one of economic consequences of globalization was the world financial crisis and desovereignization of national states including Switzerland as the world banking and financial centre. At the same time Switzerland – more than any other European countries – created mechanisms for securing the state sovereignty. Its developed banking system guaranteed independence from the Federal Reserve System of the USA. However the global economy requires global control; and loss of bank sovereignty is the payment for participation in globalization project.

"Banking system turned into an absolutely independent and rather profitable kind of business which dictates to other elements of economy how they should develop" – said in his speech Vladimir Yakunin, the founder and Deputy Chairman of Committee of the Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called, Doctor of Political Science.

"The processes connected with globalization lead to the situation when some part of the state's sovereignty including economic sovereignty is handed over to international supranational organs" – he emphasized.

Richard Werner, professor of international banking at the business school of the University of Southampton, director of the Centre for Banking, Finance and Sustainable Development, Chairman of Local First Community Interest also shared his opinion on economic consequences of globalization: "For the last forty years we can see how strong the influence of IMF and other banking structures was on development of different economies around the world when it comes to privatization, liberalization and deregulation. The result was quite different from the expected one. As a result there were lack of development, inequality, economic and political dependence of countries where this policy was applied" – said Werner.
This opinion is to a large extent supported by Walter Schwimmer, Austrian politician, former Secretary General of the Council of Europe, Chairman of International Coordination Committee and Co-Chairman of the World Public Forum “Dialogue of Civilizations”. In his speech Schwimmer focused on asset and regulatory approach to the research of globalization and noticed that one of peculiar features of neoliberal globalization is unacceptability of any rules and obliteration of traditional values.

“Today it has become obvious that all the countries should make active efforts to develop rules acceptable for all in order to secure freedom and civilized development of society. Civil society needs the common rules more than ever, otherwise the situation will be as in the Latin proverb – Homo homini lupus est. We need rules in order to live in harmony and in peace and be confident in our freedom. We must come up with the solution of what should be done at local, national and international levels” – said Schwimmer.

The round-table talk also included Dr. Hans Köchler, President of the International Progress Organization (Austria); Manuel F. Montes, Senior Advisor on Finance and Development, The South Centre, (Switzerland); Béatrice G. Lombard-Martin, Founder, Executive President of Swiss-Russian Forum (Switzerland); Prof. Ilias Iliopoulos, PhD in History of Eastern Europe from the University of Munich, (Greece); Paolo Raimondi, economist, coordinator of the Italian Committee “Razvitie Project”, editorialist of the economic daily “ItaliaOggi” (Rome, Italy) and many other.

The participants of the panel discussion concurred that preserving the sovereignty and prevention of conflict in Europe – that is the common aim for all the European countries, and the historical interaction of European countries like Switzerland and Russia – that is the resource for sustainable development in the future.
The International Science and Public Conference «Yalta – Potsdam – Helsinki – Belgrade: In Search of Secure World Order» on the pressing issues of security and cooperation in Europe under the patronage of the President of Serbia Tomislav Nikolić was held in Belgrade (Serbia) on 24–25 of November 2015 in the Central hall of the Sava-Center in Belgrade, Serbia.

The conference format assumed a wide international discussion to analyse the relevant historical and modern aspects of security and cooperation in Europe. One of the key objectives of the conference was to hold an open discussion on prospects for international cooperation in order to support development and security in Europe and the whole world in the 21st century.

Endowment for the St Andrew the First-Called Foundation (Switzerland), Center of National Glory and St. Andrew The First-Called Foundation (Russia), along with the Serbian public organization, Belgrade Forum for the World of Equals, were the main organizers of the conference.

Issues considered at the conference included the international geopolitical and value consensus of the post-Yalta-Potsdam world order and its post-Helsinki evolution, analysis of global domination attempts and the historical experience of de-escalation of military tension throughout the world, as well as the potential for a new international consensus and its value systems.

The conference also analysed the issues of an international geopolitics and values consensus based on the outcomes of the formation of the Yalta – Potsdam world order and its Helsinki prolongation, discussed projects of global domination and the historical experience of de-escalating military tension in the world as well as the value grounds and potential for a new international consensus.

The conference enjoyed the participation of: Vladimir Yakunin, Chairperson of the Board of Trustees of the Center of National Glory and St. Andrew The First-Called Foundation, Founding President of the World Public Forum «Dialogue of Civilizations», Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Russian Federation; Ivica Dačić, OSCE Chairperson, First Deputy Prime Minister, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Serbia; Milorad Dodik, President of the Republic of Srpska, Bosnia and Herzegovina; Andrey Kelin, Director of the European Cooperation Department of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation, Russia’s Permanent Representative to the OSCE (2011 – 2015), Ambassador Extraordinary and Plenipotentiary of the Russian Federation; Willi Wimmer, Vice-President of the OSCE Parliamentary Assembly (1994-2000), Member of the Bundestag (1976-2009); Živadin Jovanović, President of the Belgrade Forum for the World of Equals, Minister of Foreign Affairs of the Republic of Yugoslavia (1998 – 2000), alongside with the leading international, European, Serbian and Russian scholars, public figures and politicians, artists and scientists, members of clergy and mass media. Overall, people from twenty countries took part in the conference.

Based on the conference’s outcomes, its participants discussed and adopted final propositions addressed to the international community, including the OSCE presided by Serbia in 2015. The participants addressed the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of Serbia and personally the Minister of Foreign Affairs Ivica Dačić with a request to inform the participants of the OSCE Ministerial Council, which will take place December 3-4, 2015 in Belgrade, about the international conference and its propositions. The conference participants also addressed the President of Serbia Tomislav Nikolić with a request to consider and support these propositions and send them to the UN Security Council, UN General Secretary and the European Council.

Under the auspices of the international conference, a youth roundtable was held discussing youth participation in the formation of a new European space of security and cooperation, an exhibition was opened demonstrating photographs related to the 70th anniversary of the Yalta and Potsdam Conferences and the 40th anniversary of the signing of the CSCE’s Final Act from the collections of the Department of History and Records of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation and Archives of Yugoslavia.

THE «OUTPOSTS OF ORTHODOXY» PROGRAMME

THE SUM OF GRANTS PAID SINCE 2016 TO THE PROGRAMME IS MORE THAN 16,000 EURO

The programme is focused on restoration of Orthodox churches and monasteries in Russia and other countries.

Since 2004 the programme has the important area of activity aimed to restore the Convent of Martha and Mary. At the beginning of XX century the Convent was the centre of mercy and charity and offered help for orphans, the sick and people in need. The Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called initiated the Board of Trustees of the programme “Restoration of the Convent of Mercy of Martha and Mary. Celebration of its 100th anniversary”. The Foundation also coordinated the activity of the Board of Trustees which included representatives of state and municipal authorities, public figures and representatives of the Russian business.

His Holiness Patriarch Alexis II of Moscow and All Russia was Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the programme. Since February 2009 His Holiness Patriarch Kirill of Moscow and All Russia was in charge.

In September 2008 the Convent of Martha and Mary was open after the renovation. On September 7th 2009 the opening ceremony was held to mark the 100th anniversary of the Convent.

Within the framework of the programme in 2016 the exhibition devoted to the 150th anniversary of the consecration of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross Church in Geneva was held.

The idea to organize an exhibition on the history of the Russian Church belonged to Archbishop of Geneva and Western Europe Michael, who is a member of Endowment for St. Andrew the First-Called Foundation Board.

The St. Andrew Foundation has supported the initiative and took over the search and the preparation of materials for the exhibition and for the catalogue. It was a serious scientific work, since to date only the documents on the history of the construction of the church have been systematized, while the history of its community, restorations, etc. were covered in fragments.

Russian Church in Geneva is one of the oldest Orthodox churches in Switzerland and undoubtedly a pearl of the architecture, which the Swiss are still proud of. It was conceived by the archpriest A. Petrov. The construction of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross Church is an example of a successful community of Russian and Western European professionals - architects, builders, renovators, painters.

From the first days of its existence, the Exaltation of the Holy Cross Church unites Russians, Serbs, Bulgarians, Syrians, all the Orthodox, regardless of nationality or social status. The important role in the life of the church, but for his superiors, played the Russian diplomats, for example, Vasily Romanovich Baccheracht, who did much to help the Russian and Serbian prisoners of war during the First World War.

The exposition presents materials on the history of the design and construction of the temple, its interior and the famous icons, the materials on donors and benefactors, abbots, eminent parishioners (Russians and Serbs), about the social and charitable activities for the benefit of the Russian community, about the creative activities of the Church choir and much more.

June 7, 2016, in the state archives of Geneva, a solemn opening of the exhibition was held to mark the 150th anniversary of the consecration of the Exaltation of the Holy Cross Church. Among participants and guests were Archbishop of Geneva and Western Europe Michael, Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the St. Andrew Foundation V. Yakunin, state archivist of Geneva Pierre Fluckiger, the President of the Council of State of Geneva François Longshan, members of the Russian Church, Director of the St. Andrew Foundation, representatives of the European scientific community, of the Russian Diaspora in France and Switzerland and the Geneva residents.
The programme was created following the gradual revival of the common spiritual space of Russian people abroad and in their Motherland that can be seen in recent decades and that has the concise name – “Russian World”. It is based on the unity of the history, the unity of the language for communication and the common faith as a rule.

The programme got its name after the cultural and historical idea of “Russian world” as the international inter-state and inter-continental community which is united by commitment to Russia and loyalty to Russian language and the culture. There are particular projects dedicated to participation of our compatriots in the destinies of European states.

One of the key tasks of the programme as well as the Centre of National Glory on the whole is to revive the spiritual unity of the Russian world that had been broken by the revolutions in 1917 and the Civil War.

In 2008 for the first anniversary of the Act of Canonical Communion between the Russian Orthodox Church and the Russian Orthodox Church Outside of Russia the Centre of National Glory restored and unveiled the monument to Russian people in Gallipoli.

In 2010 at the initiative of the Centre of National Glory the unique sea expedition was organized to visit the sites of spreading of the Russian Army. The main task of the campaign was to establish and develop contacts with representatives of the Russian foreign community – the descendants of the first-wave emigration. The delegation included descendants of the people who 90 years ago had to abandon their Motherland due to the Civil War.

In 1908 sailors of the Russian Imperial Navy came to rescue citizens of Sicily who suffered from the disastrous earthquake. The local people were so grateful to their saviors that they were calling the Russian sailors “Angels from the sea”. This heroic act was memorialized in the form of the monument that was erected in 2012 at the initiative of the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called. The monument was placed at the square of Messina, the town in Sicily. The following year the square was renamed into “Square of Russian Sailors”. In April 2013 a bust to Saint Righteous Admiral Fyodor Ushakov was unveiled at this “Russian place”. Also in 2012 a bust to Emperor Nicholas II was unveiled in Taormina.

The friendly relations between Russia and Sicily continued in 2015 when the monuments to Boris Pasternak, poet and writer, and to Pietro Zveteremich, Slavist and the first translator of “Doctor Zhivago” novel from Russian into Italian, were erected in Messina in July. And the monument to Anna Akhmatova became a new place of interest and a beautiful spot in Taormina.

THE «GREAT NAMES» PROGRAMME

This programme was created to perpetuate the names of great Russian figures who contributed to the strengthening and development of the partnership between Russia and other countries.

In 2016, which has been declared the Year of Russia in Greece and the Year of Greece in Russia, the Foundation of St. Andrew the First-Called together with a number of Greek public organizations implemented the Charity programme in memory of Grand Duchess, Queen of Greece, Olga Konstantinovna Romanova (1851-1926).

Ceremonial festivities were held in Athens and Piraeus in November 2016 and coincided with the 165th anniversary of the birth of Grand Duchess, Olga Konstantinovna, who became the Queen of Greece and devoted her life to the strengthening and development of Russian-Greek relations, diplomatic and humanitarian cooperation between the two countries, as well as greater charity.

On October, 31 within the event they held a wreath-laying ceremony to the monument of Russian sailors and a festal divine service in Olga’s memory in the temple of Holy Trinity in Athens. During the service the Icon of the Holy Virgin (Smolenskaya) was given to the temple as a gift. The celebration continued in Athenian port Pireaus. The big anti-submarine ship “Smetliviy” was invited to be the guest there. The ceremony to reward the winners of the historian-educational competition of research and creative works of Greek students devoted to Olga’s memory was organized on board the ship.

In the evening within the events in New Acropolis Museum the director of the Hermitage Mikhail Borisovich Piotrovski delivered the lecture on “The Big Hermitage”. The events ended in Athenian concert-hall “Megaron”, where the solemn evening was held with the participation of actors of the State Academic Mariinski Theatre – the concert devoted to the Queen’s memory.

On November, 1 2016 in Zappion Palace in Athens within the official event of the Cross Year of Russia and Greece under the aegis of IV Greek-Russian Forum of civil societies there was the International scientific conference on “Russia, Greece, Europe: the Traditions of Cooperation and Generality of Historical Destinies”. The reports of the conclusive part of the conference concerned the activity of Great princess Olga in Russia and Greece, who devoted her life to strengthening and development of Russian-Greek relationship as well as diplomatic and humanitarian rapprochement of the countries.

The programme activities were also devoted to the “Days of St. Petersburg in Athens”.

«For us Olga the Queen of Greece and the Greek is the symbol of unification for Russia and Greece, the two Orthodox nations. Her charitable work, care for the afflicted inspired and inspires us.»

Head of Holy Residence «Holy Mother of God and Galaxios Sea Empress»
THE PROGRAMME TO SUPPORT PEOPLE WHO HAVE BECOME VICTIMS OF TRAGIC EVENTS

In 2004, within the framework of the “Children of Kosovo” programme, more than 500 Serbian children from Kosovo spent their vacations in Russian camps. 30 journalists from leading federal mass media, within the framework of the Foundation’s Christmas in Kosovo, visited this place in 2004 and told the public about violations of the rights of the Serbian population in Kosovo and Metohija.

In August 2008, on the initiative of the Center of National Glory, a special bank account has been opened for transferring of funds for victims in South Ossetia. The donated money was spent on humanitarian aid to residents of South Ossetia, buying of flats for families of the fallen Russian military officers, restoration of a boarding school of the city of Tskhinvali.

In July 2014, the Foundation organized vacations for children from Syria in one of the camps of Russia.

Almost 100 children from orphanages at monasteries of the Antiochian Orthodox Church in Saidnaya, Maalula, Damascus and Valley of the Christians, pupils from boarding schools for children of deceased military parents, as well as the children’s chaperones spent two weeks at the children health camp located in the Moscow region where they enjoyed a diverse sports and cultural programme.
